How does BSI involve the software assurance community?

Members of the software assurance community are invited to submit articles for publication on the Build Security In website or to review submitted articles.

Submissions may be either new articles or articles that have been published elsewhere. Topic categories are listed on the Articles by Content Area[1] page.

To inquire about authoring or reviewing content for BSI, see the Call for Authors and Reviewers[2] or email bsi-submissions [at] sei.cmu.edu.
